Our Work at Its Best

In response to my request for you all to send me your prose, poetry, artwork, etc., Lucy Candib, long time family physician of Family Health Center for Worcester, has sent the photo below. She included these words when she sent it:

I have had this photo since around 2006. I don't know where it came from or who the doctor and patient are. To me it represents the relational quality of our work at its best.

We have done some on-line searching and can't identify the subjects or the photographer. I do agree - it does show us at our best. As Ron Epstein would encourage - do some deep looking of the image. Think about what appeals to you. When was the last time you had a moment like this? Was that recent enough? How can you be sure to have this happen often enough, even in our busy schedules and lives.
