Introduction: We forgot to share one of the Haikus sent to us during our call for Haikus (by the way - you can send haikus year-round!).

Katy Brodski-Quigley, who trained at Barre Family Health Center, and now works at AFC Urgent Care in Waltham, MA shares this short message below. While there are only 17 syllables, the message of reassuring patients is an important one. Enjoy.

ER

By Katy Brodski-Quigley

Reassuringly
monitor blips at bedside.
Relax. We got you.

Keywords: poetry, haiku, doctor-patient communication, anxiety, heart disease